

November 7, 2017

Good morning Kulshan!

A Day

- Did you remember to bring your non-perishable food items? You can place them in the grade level shopping carts, located on the stage in the commons, before or after school through November 17. With 1 in 9 Washington families living below the poverty line, every item counts. You can make a difference in your community by donating today!
- Have you pre-ordered your yearbook yet? Until the end of the first semester, they are only $25. Second semester the price goes up to $30. Last year we ran out of copies for people who did not pre-order so place your order in the office today.
- Come craft in the library on Wednesday. You may bring your lunch and select from a variety of crafts. The library will only be open for crafting on Wednesday and not games or Legos.
- More news from the library. Help us with our bulletin board and tell us what you are thankful for by filling out one of our hands. See the library ladies for more information.
- Remember that there is no morning gym during dance/gymnastics practice. Morning gym will resume after the current sports season.
- And now it's time for Kulshan Kudos! Our first kudo goes to Kyle Diefel for working patiently and kindly with other students. To Lily Skoczen who stepped up with confidence to lead orchestra practice and even remembered a detail that had only been taught once before, Amy Oberlander for taking the lead in extended learning and working hard to finish your design project. Also, to Tim Connors and Hector Cruz for helping clean tables at lunch and our last Kudo goes to Chris Minter for playing a game at recess with a student who is new to KMS. Please come to the office to collect your prize after the Pledge of Allegiance.
- Attention Kulshan Boys Basketball players, this is a reminder that there will be NO practice today, because of conferences. Please be ready to go tomorrow at 4. Also, don't forget to turn in your Kulshan Basketball gear order form tomorrow to the office, if you are getting stuff.

Now please stand for the Pledge of Allegiance (pause!)...hand salute. (pause) "We pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America...."