

November 9, 2017

Good morning Kulshan!

A Day

- Just a reminder that today is an Early Release followed by no school tomorrow. The buses will be here and ready to load today so hustle out.
- Since the Bellingham Food Bank does not turn away any Bellingham Citizen, it affects many more homes in Bellingham than one would think. Approximately 5% of all families in the Bellingham city limits utilize the Food Bank at least once a year. Let's all do our part to help those families in our community by bringing in your non-perishable food items for the KMS food drive. So far, 6th grade is stealing the show. 7th and 8th grade need to bring in the food!
- Have you pre-ordered your yearbook yet? Until the end of the first semester, they are only $25. Second semester the price goes up to $30. Last year we ran out of copies for people who did not pre-order so place your order in the office today.
- Help the library with our bulletin board and tell us what you are thankful for by filling out one of our hands. See the library ladies for more information.
- Did you check your closets? Do you have your outfits picked out and ready to go? It's Spirit Week next week! Monday is 'Merica Monday, Tuesday is Tie Dye Tuesday, Wednesday is Color Wars so 6th grade wear your blue, 7th grade come to school rocking the red and 8th grade wear your pink. Thursday is Twin Day followed by Flannel Friday.

Now please stand for the Pledge of Allegiance (pause!)...hand salute. (pause)
"We pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America...."